Washington Dispatches

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

CONTESTED ELECTION CASE.

It Occupies the Entire Day in the House While the Senate Takes Up the Calendar and Passes a Number of Bills. Other National News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The house yesterday took up the Langston-Venable, Virginia, contested election case, but did not finish it. Notice was given on the Republican side that the previous question would be called at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The senate worked on the calendar during the morning hour, passing a number of bills. The remainder of the day's session was devoted to consideration of the bill to establish a court to settle private land claims in western states and territories, but without action on the bill it went over till tomorrow.

Trusted Strangers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Virgino Vaccaro, superintendent of silk culture of the agricultural department, has been victimized to the extent of $3,000 by two of his fellow countrymen. They represented themselves several days ago to be rich wine merchants of California, and the three men became great friends. On the pretense of not having received a draft from home, with which to pay their charges on a lot of wines shipped to them, they borrowed $3,000 from Mr. Vaccaro, since which time nothing has been heard of them.

Letter on Leprosy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The state department has received a long and interesting report from United States Consul Pinnacker, at Maracibo, on the subject of leprosy in Zulula, and giving a description of the Maracibo lazaretto, which he asserts is the best kept institution in the world.

Silver Bullion.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The director of the mint was offered yesterday 519,000 ounces of silver bullion; 336,000 of which he purchased at the following prices: 30,000 ounces at $1.16 1-4; 50,000 ounces at $1.164; 50,000 ounces at $1.16 1-2; 75,000 ounces at $1.16 5-8; 121,000 ounces at $1.16 3-4.

Cholera in Asiatic Turkey.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—A telegram has been received at the department of state from the United States consular agent at Aleppo, Asiatic Turkey, announcing the presence of cholera there.

Colored Children Remain at Home.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 18.—There is trouble in the Columbus schools with the colored children. The trustees provided a teacher as usual, also a separate room such as the trustees have provided for several years, but the colored children were ordered home by some of their own people, and refused to accept the school privileges offered them. The teacher, Miss Rosa Slater, a high school graduate, was ready to instruct the children, but they came not. The trustees were notified some time ago that the colored people wanted a separate building and a colored teacher, but the request was not complied with, and the colored children remain out of school.

The Comrade Was Surely Lost.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 18.—Capt. John H. Coulter, of the steamer Louisiana, and Capt. J. T. Hutton, of the steamer John, which arrived in port yesterday, confirm the loss of the Comrade. Capt. Coulter says he passed through the wreckage of a vessel between Eagle river and the Portage canal Sunday afternoon. Capt. Hutton stated that at 6:30 Monday morning in the same vicinity, he passed through wreckage consisting of a vessel's forwardhouse, mizzenmast and yawl. The yawl was upside down, and bore the name "Comrade, of Hiron." There is no doubt that the eight hands were down by the capsizing of the yawl.

Watch Clubs Not Falsified.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 18.—Last winter the Montgomery county grand jury returned an indictment against C. L. Root, a jeweller at Crawfordsville, for carrying on a lottery in having a weekly watch drawing. The first week the watch would cost a member of the club $1, the second week $2, and run up to $30. The case against him has been dismissed, as also cases against three newspaper men for publishing his watch-scheme advertisement.

Untolded Rumors of Murder.

PARC, Ind., Sept. 18.—The reconvening of the coroner's jury, in the case of Samuel Slammann, who was accidentally shot at Santa Fe, this county, a few nights ago, and in which suspicions of foul play were entertained, gave a verdict, in accordance with the former one, of accidental death from his own hand. The rumors circulated, and given sufficient credence to cause the impeding of another jury, were without any foundation in fact whatever.

A New Counterfeit.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 18.—Harvey S. Nye, who claims to be a telegraph operator at Ada, O., was arrested here for passing a counterfeit twenty-dollar note. Bank officials say that the counterfeit bill is of a new house, which has not been in circulation here.

A Farmer Drops Dead.

TIFFIN, O., Sept. 18.—Daniel Hart, a prominent Venice township farmer, dropped dead in the field at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Heart disease.

WORLD'S FAIR EXECUTIVE.

President Palmer Announces His Selection for This Important Work.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—President Palmer at yesterday's session of the world's fair commission announced his selection of the executive committee. This committee will name a director general, and by virtue of its position will be the most important in connection with the exposition.

The committee, which is composed of thirteen Democrats and thirteen Republicans, consists of Messrs. M. L. McDonald, R. C. Kerns, Henry Exall, P. A. B. Widener, commissioners-at-large; J. T. Harris, Virginia; W. J. Sewell, New Jersey; B. H. Smalley, Vermont; E. B. Martindale, Indiana; J. B. Thatcher, New York; F. W. Breed, Massachusetts; Enclid Martin, Nebraska; Reese R. Price, Kansas; M. B. Harrison, Minnesota; J. D. Butt, West Virginia; A. T. Ewing, Illinois; W. F. King, Iowa; H. P. Platt, Ohio; L. McLaw, Georgia; T. L. Williams, Tennessee; Joshua Hirst, Florida; R. L. Saunders, Mississippi; L. H. Hershfield, Montana; H. E. Goodell, California; A. T. Britton, District of Columbia; J. A. McKenzie, Kentucky; and President T. W. Palmer to be chairman by resolution of the commission adopted July 1, 1890. Applause greeted the reading of the names of the committee.

Four Million People Homeless.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Chinese advices to Aug. 21 and Japanese advices to Aug. 29 were received per steamship City of Rio Janeiro, which arrived here yesterday. The Yellow river flood and other floods continue to absorb all attention in China. Four million people are homeless in the province of Chihai and in Shantung. The misery is almost equally as great. Cholera is prevalent in Shanghai and also in the northern districts. Several Europeans have succumbed to it.

Not a Trust Yet Formed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Window glass manufacturers are not making much progress in their efforts to organize a trust. After a session at the Auditorium, lasting all day, the representatives adjourned last evening without having reached an agreement. Unless an understanding is effected to-day the gentlemen will probably abandon the idea altogether.

Only Routine Business Done.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 18.—The morning session of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite for the jurisdiction of the United States was devoted to the transaction of routine business, such as receiving and acting upon the reports of committees, etc. No legislation of any kind was passed upon, and no business that could be made public was accomplished.

Strikers Expecting Money.

ALBANY, Sept. 18.—More money is expected to arrive soon for the relief of the strikers on the Central road. District Master Workman Lee yesterday afternoon said he would not declare the strike off.

General Porter's Son Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—Horace M. Porter, a son of Gen. Horace Porter, died in this city yesterday of typhoid fever, aged 15 years. Deceased had been employed by the Reading Railroad company.

National Bank Robbed.

THE DALLAS, Ore., Sept. 18.—Further particulars of the robbery of the First National bank show that it was committed early Tuesday morning, but the matter was kept quiet in order to allow the detectives to work on the case. The concrete pier on which the vault stands was tunneled through and a hole drilled into the safe. The amount secured was $9,500. The robbery was evidently the work of experienced burglars and must have taken three weeks to accomplish. There is no clew to the robbers.

Latest from Buenos Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 18.—Gen. Roca is accused of trying to secure the presidency of the republic. But he maintains that he is resolved not to be a candidate. The minister of finance has officially declared that no further issue of notes than that recently sanctioned will be contemplated, and also that the emission of cedulas recently authorized will not be made. The ministers of the province of Buenos Ayres have resigned.

A Tumble to Death.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 18.—George Neil, aged 39 years, residing at No. 7 Oliver street and employed at the Lion brewery, fell from the third story window of his boarding house onto the brick pavement of the back yard some time between 1 and 7 a. m. He was found in an unconscious condition and taken to the city hospital, where he was found to be fatally injured internally.

Escaped Convicts Arrested.

OMAHA, Utah, Sept. 18.—Four sensational arrests were made by the police here last night. They are four "long time" convict convicts from the California state prison at Folsom. The names of the prisoners are: Charles Germain, Tom Wilson, C. H. Koehler and Marlin Blumer. They will be returned to California.

Colonel Mac and Money Missing.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 18.—Stephen Mosby, a well-known colored citizen, left home Monday morning for Dr. L. E. Rusch's office down town to undergo treatment for a cancer. He did not visit the office and has not been seen since. He had over $100 with him. There are suspicions of foul play.

Killed by a Freight Train.

LA CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 18.—A young man in whose pocket was found a card bearing the name Anthony Ryan, Savannah, Ga., was killed by a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Conestoga bridge, yesterday. Both legs were broken and his skull crushed, death resulting instantly.

The Deed of a Demon.

A Terrible Tragedy at Portsmouth, N. H.

THREE DEAD AND TWO DYING.

A Cooper Shoots Three of His Daughters and His Wife's Paramour and Then Sends a Bullet Crashing Into His Own Head—Details of the Crime.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 18.—A terrible tragedy occurred here last night, and there is great excitement. Fred. H. J. Hein, aged 48 years, a cooper in the employ of the Eldredge Brewing company, has a family of three daughters, the eldest, Carrie, aged 15 years, keeping house for him, his wife, who it is said was unfaithful, having left him several months ago. Since she left it is reported the girl, Carrie, has become wayward.

Hein's troubles preyed upon his mind until he resolved to end them, and remove from temptation the three female members of his household. Two of them and the prisoner himself lie dead in his home, while at the hospital the third daughter lies dying with a bullet in her neck, and at his home Charles W. Taylor, a well-known hardware merchant, whose name has been connected with that of Mrs. Hein, lies with two bullet holes in his back. Before the discovery of Hein's dead body officers and citizens were scouring the city in search of him and had he fallen into the hands of the mob he would have been lynched.

The story of the murder is: Charles W. Taylor while entering his residence about 7:30 last night, was roused upon by the murderer, who fired two shots both of which took effect in the small of his back. Taylor is still alive, but very low. He says he does not know what prompted Hein to shoot him. The doctors are doubtful about saving him. Shortly before 5 o'clock people in the vicinity of Hein's house heard five pistol shots fired in rapid succession, and Maud, the 13-year-old daughter of Hein, ran out of the house and down the street. She proceeded but a short distance when she fell on the pavement, saying: "Father has shot me." The girl was taken to the hospital, where she now lies in a critical condition. Three shots were fired at her, all taking effect.

The lower part of Hein's house was the scene of the murderer's most brutal work, and it shows evidence of a desperate struggle. The kitchen was covered with blood and everything was in great disorder. Just outside the back door of the house lay two bodies. Carrie, the oldest girl, lay with her face covered with blood, the bullet having entered the left side of the face, passing upward toward the brain, death having resulted instantly. Across her prostrate form lay Bertha, the youngest daughter. When found she was unconscious, and she expired in fifteen minutes, the bullet that caused her death having entered her head just behind the left ear. Sheriff Coffin arrived at Hein's house at 3:15 and detailed men to search for the murderer. Meanwhile Marshall Joy and a force of officers arrived and it was decided to closely examine the chambers. As they entered the front chamber they found the dead body of Hein stretched on the floor. A bullet had passed through his head from the revolver which lay by his side. The crowd which had gathered about the house were highly excited and had the murderer been taken alive he certainly would have been killed by them.

CONDUCTORS' CONVENTION.

The Meeting at Toledo Not Fully Organized—Waiting for Reports.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 18.—The railway conductors meeting here have not fully organized, the time being occupied in waiting for reports from the various committees.

Yesterday evening the members of the Brotherhood attended the People's theatre in a body, and this afternoon they will be taken to see various points of interest throughout the city.

The delegates have accepted an invitation of the natural gas trustees to visit the gas fields and witness a display of the city gas on Friday afternoon.

This afternoon Mayor Hamilton and a committee of citizens will call on the convention to present the claim of the city for the headquarters of the Brotherhood.

The Switchmen.

BUFFALO, Sept. 18.—The switchmen's convention held no session yesterday, none of the committees being ready to report. The delegates went to Niagara Falls in the afternoon on an excursion. In an interview with Grand Master Sweeney regarding the Central strike, he scored the local leaders of the switchmen for calling the men out here. He was particularly severe on Maj. McGowan, of Albany, and District Master Workman Lee. He said that Lee was at the bottom of the whole trouble, and he wished it was in his power to punish him.

OVER AN EMBANKMENT.

A Bad Wreck on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railroad.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18.—The Times-Democrat's Arkansas City special says: A bad wreck occurred on the Warren branch of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad five miles west of Coldens, about 10 a. m. yesterday. It occurred to the eastbound train consisting of several freight cars, a baggage and mail car and one passenger coach, about forty-five passengers being aboard. The engine in passing over a weak rail broke it. The freight cars passed over without displacing the rail, but the baggage car and passenger coach jumped the track, rolled down the embankment and were badly wrecked. Fifteen of the passengers sustained injuries.

The following is the list of those most seriously hurt:

W. J. Cole, travelling salesman, badly hurt about the head and back; serious.

A. W. Freeman, of Baxter, Ark., head badly hurt.

M. E. Ferguson, of Baxter, head cut and crushed.

T. W. Owens, of Dermott, Ark., fractured skull.

Miss Fannie Owens, of Dermott, fractured skull.

Miss Nellie Anderson, of Dermott, face badly bruised and injured internally.

HEAVY FAILURE.

A Box on Firm Goes Under for Two Million Dollars.

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—S. Gardner Chase & Company, bankers and brokers, No. 146 Devonshire street, have failed, and an assignment for the benefit of the firm's creditors has been made to James T. Phelps, general agent of the National Life Insurance company, No. 159 Devonshire street. The firm is one of the most prominent in that line of business in Boston, and the failure is a surprise. No exact figures of the liabilities can as yet be given, but the assignee states that they will amount to $2,000,000.

The members of the firm are R. Gardner Chase and Charles E. Legg. The business was started by Papendick, Chase & Company. Mr. Papendick died in 1869, and Mr. Chase conducted the business alone until 1889, when Mr. Legg was admitted as partner. A statement of liabilities and assets will be prepared as soon as possible and a meeting of creditors called. The Herald is informed that a prominent broker said that the failure would not probably involve any other firm.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

A Well Known Telegraph Operator Succumbs to Consumption.

DENVER, Sept. 18.—Lonis B. McCarthy, for many years in the telegraph service of the Associated Press in Washington and New York, was found dead in his bed at his residence in this city yesterday. His death was caused by hemorrhages of the lungs.

Mr. McCarthy came here from New York, where he was employed as chief operator in the telegraph department of the Associated Press, for the benefit of his health; but consumption, with which he was afflicted, had so enfeebled him that he was unable to rally. He was born in New York, and was about 36 years of age. He was a thoroughly reliable man, very popular with his associates and one of the most expert transmitters of press reports in the country.

Fell Under a Street Car.

BUFFALO, Sept. 18.—P. H. Brady, a traveling agent for G. Sidenberg & Company, fancy dry goods dealers in New York, fell from a street car last night and was run over and killed by a car going in the opposite direction. Mr. Brady had taken the car at his hotel and was on his way to take the Lackawanna train for New York. He went out to the platform to ask the driver to hurry as he was afraid of missing the train. Either his foot slipped or he was thrown off by the jolting of the car. He fell across the up-track directly in front of a car which passed over his head. An ambulance was called but he died before reaching the hospital.

Lost His Wife and Money.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 18.—Dr. A. G. Larson, of Salt Lake City, Utah, has lost his wife and $18,000 in a very strange manner. Mrs. Larson disappeared from South Pueblo, Col., Wednesday, the 3d instant, having almost the whole of the amount above mentioned in her possession, and since that time nothing has been heard of her, although she telegraphed her husband to meet her at the Briggs house, in this city, on the following Saturday, Sept. 9. There are very strong reasons to believe that the woman has been robbed and perhaps been murdered.

Traction Engine Explodes.

HAMPSHIRE CITY, Ind., Sept. 17.—A traction engine owned by George Fidler of this city, exploded Tuesday with terrible force. The owner was blown a distance of 100 feet, picked up for dead and carried home. It was found that life was not extinct, and he may get well. Abram Burnsworth, a helper, was badly cut about the neck and head. The head Sawyer was also injured, parts of the boiler and hundreds of small articles were blown from 300 to 400 feet.

Rescued Sailors.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—A Tribune special from Ashland, Wis., says: Dispatches received late Tuesday say that the lumber schooner Ben Brink, which was reported to have gone ashore on the rocks near Eagle Harbor was picked up while drifting past Houghton water-logged, and the captain and crew of five men rescued.

Thrown from a Carriage.

CHEYBOSAN, Mich., Sept. 18.—William Taylor, a farmer living in Inverness, was driving home last evening when his horse took fright and threw Mrs. Taylor and her little daughter from the carriage. Mrs. Taylor was killed. Taylor was thrown out shortly after and was picked up for dead, but may recover. The little girl was not injured.

Disappeared in a Sinkhole.

HUFF'S CREEK, Pa., Sept. 18.—Owing to the late heavy rains, an iron ore mine at Rittenhouse gap sprung a leak yesterday, and 10,000 tons of ore disappeared in a sinkhole 200 feet deep carrying with it two engines and all the machinery. The mine is supposed to have been situated over a subterranean cavern.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1890.

The dead-lock in the Congressional district across the river was broken yesterday, by the nomination of Hon. John M. Pattison.

The Greenup Gazette, which professes to be an independent journal, we believe, and which is edited by a Republican, says "Mr. Paynter has made a very creditable Congressman, and we are pleased to see him get his second nomination without contest." Mr. Paynter's friends are not limited to the ranks of his own party.

The Republicans of Indiana in convention assembled indorsed the administration of Benjamin Harrison, and then "cordially" indorsed Governor Hovey's administration, and "heartily" indorsed the action of the Republicans in Congress. "This was rather rough on Harrison," says the Indianapolis Sentinel, which adds: "But the fact that the Chairman of the convention, Colonel Richard W. Thompson, did not once mention Harrison or make the most distant allusion to him, and that from the calling of the convention to order to the declaration of its adjournment Harrison was not mentioned or referred to in any way by any of the participants was a good deal rougher on him. We believe this is the first time in the history of the country that a President of the United States has been so utterly ignored in a convention in his own State."

Mr. BLAINE, the distinguished Secretary of State under the present Republican administration, is out in another letter on the tariff question, in which he acknowledges the injustice of the McKinley bill, as it passed the House.

He says it protects every manufacturing industry of New England, and indirectly admits that it will prove injurious to the West.

It arrays the one section against the other.

It favors the East and injures the West.

In plain words, the gist of his letter is that the bill is framed entirely in the interest of the manufacturers, and leaves the farmers to hustle for themselves. "It does not provide a market for another bushel of wheat or barrel of pork," to use his words in his previous attack on the measure.

His letter is a shrewd and telling argument in favor of his "reciprocity" views. He wants to exchange the flour of the West for Cuba's sugar. What would that be if not free trade?

As the Louisville Times says: "If it would benefit the Western farmer to exchange his flour for free sugar, it would likewise benefit him to exchange it for free clothing, free iron," and so on. There are countries that consume as much flour, pork, &c., in a week as Cuba does in a year, and if reciprocal free trade with Cuba would prove a good thing for the agricultural interests of this country, reciprocal free trade with these other countries would likewise be a good thing for the farmers.

But Reed, McKinley & Co. are running the Republican party, and they want none of Mr. Blaine's "reciprocity." They are not legislating in the interests of the farmer. Hence they have refused to concur in the Senate's reciprocity amendment to the tariff bill.

The farmers of the country will have a chance to speak their sentiments at the Congressional elections in November. Will they vote to sustain a party that is determined on passing a bill that is directly opposed to their own interests, according to Mr. Blaine's own admission?

Kentucky Census Figures.

Superintendent Porter has announced the result of the enumeration of the Third Census District of Kentucky. The population is shown to be 349,114 against 307,021 in 1880, an increase of 42,093, or 13.71 per cent. The following table shows the population by counties:

Counties.	Population in 1880.	Population in 1890.	Increase.
Anderson	10,588	12,287	Increase
Bullitt	8,283	9,236	Increase
Carroll	9,236	10,149	Increase
Green	11,461	12,378	Increase
Henry	14,114	15,021	Increase
Jackson	18,311	19,218	Increase
Marion	15,828	16,735	Increase
Mercer	15,021	15,928	Increase
Nelson	16,380	17,287	Increase
Oldham	6,753	7,660	Increase
Shelby	16,482	17,389	Increase
Spencer	8,729	9,636	Increase
Taylor	8,729	9,636	Increase
Trimble	7,113	7,920	Increase
Washington	13,016	13,923	Increase

As will be noticed in the foregoing table, the counties of Bullitt, Green, Henry, Nelson, Oldham, Shelby, Spencer, Trimble and Washington have lost in population since the last census. The population of the principal cities and towns in the district is as follows:

Harrodsburg	3,191	3,292	Increase
Lebanon	2,805	2,906	Increase
Louisville	161,065	170,240	Increase
Shelbyville	2,676	2,777	Increase

THE NINTH DISTRICT.

It Went Democratic by Over 3,000
Last August—What the Official Figures Show.

The official returns from the election in this State last August were published this week. The total vote cast was 273,057, the Democrats polling 161,712, Republicans 107,005 and the Prohibitionists 4,340. The Democratic plurality was 54,707, and the majority over 50,000.

The Republicans will not be able to draw much comfort from the vote in this Congressional district. The thirteen counties in the district cast 17,859 votes for the Democratic ticket, 14,562 for the Republican ticket, and 641 for the Prohibitionists—a total of 33,062. The vote given is that for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. As may be seen the Democratic plurality on the above vote was 3,297, and the majority over all was 2,656. Following is the vote by counties:

	D.	R.	P.
Bath	1,454	1,013	43
Boyd	1,402	1,221	—
Bracken	1,571	652	50
Darier	1,099	1,479	50
Fleming	1,708	1,595	80
Greenup	1,162	1,155	—
Harrison	1,775	938	197
Lawrence	1,682	1,613	1
Lewis	1,288	1,648	9
Mason	2,171	1,778	—
Nicholas	1,228	770	188
Robertson	810	912	6
Rowan	411	392	—
Totals	17,859	14,562	641

Only two counties—Carter and Lewis—were carried by the Republicans, the one giving them a majority of 380 and the majority of 360.

The Democrats carried Bath by 411, Boyd by 181, Bracken 919, Fleming 201, Greenup 7, Harrison 817, Lawrence 69, Mason 693, Nicholas 452, Robertson 265 and Rowan 19.

Bracken gave the banner Democratic majority, but Mason cast the banner Democratic vote, several hundred more than any other county, and her full Democratic vote was not polled by 300 or 400.

The Republicans have been ranting a great deal about the gerrymander, but the official vote shows that the old Ninth district was solidly Democratic at the August election.

In arranging the new Ninth Harrison County was added to it and Martin and Johnson were taken off and thrown in the Tenth. Take Harrison's vote off the above totals and add that of Martin and Johnson, and you have the vote of the old Ninth district, the Democratic majority being 1,810.

The Democrats should not allow the big majority to make them over-confident in the present campaign. It is a privilege, and the duty, of every one to vote and the aim of all should be to see how large they can make Mr. Paynter's majority.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

GERMANTOWN.

Rev. Essex visited Augusta Tuesday.
M. F. Coughlin visited Higginsport this week.
Rev. Wright attended conference at Lexington this week.
Miss Sadie Broshers, of Minerva, is visiting Miss Fannie Florer.
Joe McDowell, Cashier of the Mt. Olive bank, was here Tuesday.
Mrs. Ridge-Hill and children are the guests of Mrs. Jellerson Woodward.
Isaac Woodward and Joe E. Walton are in the Queen City this week.
Abel Conrad moved to the Rigdon Bros. Shumake farm in the near future.
Mrs. Judd Wilson left Monday for St. Louis, where she expects to remain some time.
A gentleman representing the Nashville Building Association was here last Tuesday.
New ticket offices are being erected on the fair grounds. Tickets will also be on sale in town.
Mrs. B. M. Burdette, Kilmory, Florida, is here the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Walton.
The academy is being handsomely palatial by Leslie Pollock. As yet we have no cooler.
The colored folks picnic Saturday was not fully a success. Joe Lewis won the greased hog race.
Rev. Ebricht delivered his last sermon Sunday evening, to a large and appreciative audience.
James Ware, of Augusta, and Dan Mitchell, of Helena, two well-known horse buyers, were here Monday.
There were four ladies here Monday to buy hats, one from Lexington, one from Carlisle, and two from Brooksville. They purchased from Mrs. Elma Elliott.
Germantown loses one of its most enterprising citizens, in Hal Winter, who left this week with his family for Cheltenham, where in the future they will reside.
"The Fair Bulletin," an eight page sheet, devoted to promoting our forth coming Old Reliable Fair, is handsomely gotten up. We predict a larger attendance, and a better fair, than even last year's was which is saying a great deal.
Quite a number of citizens change their base this week. Mrs. Bell Walker and Mr. Luo, of Bowling Green, have moved to the house, which Mrs. W. recently purchased; Joe McKinney to Mrs. Cooper's residence; John Wilson to John Downing's house, and Foster Tucker to the Wm. Butcher house.
Several of our business men attended the funeral of Mr. John Pearce Sunday. Mr. Pearce's friends here were legion, and all say he was one of the most gentlemanly, as well as honorable business men Maysville ever had, and all sincerely regretted to learn of his death.

A Remarkable Tree.

Growing near the baths of Allaz, in the Canton of Vaud, Switzerland, almost within a stone's throw of the most popular hotel, 4,500 feet above the level of the sea, stands the most remarkable tree in the world. The trunk of the tree is ten meters, or a little over thirty feet, at the base. At about two yards above the ground it puts out on the south side seven offshoots. Bent and gnarled at the bottom, these side trunks soon straighten themselves up and rise perpendicular and parallel to the main stem. This feature is not perhaps wholly unparalleled, but another most curious fact is that the two largest of the side trunks are connected with the principal stem by sub-quadrangular braces resembling girders.

These beams have probably been formed by an anastomosing of branches, which although common enough among angiosperms, has never been reported before in a couifer (the remarkable tree in question being a fir). The places where the side girders enter the main trunk of the tree are so smoothly barked over as to make it impossible to ascertain the manner in which nature formed the remarkable union.

The adaptation by which a limb, originally destined to grow free and bear foliage, has been converted into a living stick of timber is a strange one, affording a new illustration of the power of nature to fit itself to any and all circumstances.—St. Louis Republic.

Whistling for Seals.

In a letter to The American Naturalist E. F. Payne, of Toronto, records an interesting fact, which often came under his notice during a prolonged stay at Hudson's strait. "Here," he says, "the Esquimaux might often be seen lying at full length at the edge of an ice field, and, although no seals could be seen, they persistently whistled in a low note similar to that often used in calling tame pigeons. If words can express my meaning, like a plaintive phew, few-few, the first note being prolonged at least three seconds. If there were any seals within hearing distance they were invariably attracted to the spot, and it was amusing to see them lifting themselves as high as possible out of the water and slowly sinking their heads, as though highly delighted with the music."

"Here they would remain for some time, until one, perhaps more venturesome than the rest, would come within striking distance of the Esquimaux, who, starting to his feet with gun or harpoon, would often change the seal's tune of joy to one of sorrow, the others making off as rapidly as possible. The whistling had to be continuous, and was more effective if performed by another Esquimaux a short distance back from the one lying motionless at the edge of the ice. I may add that the experiment was often tried by myself with the same result."

The Hades and the Fans.

It is not very long since that the students of classic Bonn, in summer time, threw away the walking stick and grasped the fan. In Italy and in France the fan was a favorite with the "enraptured darlings" at the theatre, in the concert room and on the promenades. The French writer Arnold relates how, one summer evening, while at the Opera house in Paris, he was uncommoded by the flapping of fans carried by two persons who sat near him. This nuisance, added to his short sight, interfered with his enjoyment of the opera. Turning to the two delinquents, Arnold, in the politest of tones, said: "My dear ladies, if you will kindly moderate the use of your fans it will render me the happiest of men. He was surprised—and the impression then made on Arnold never left his mind—when, instead of hearing in reply the tones of a lady's voice, a deep bass smote his ear, and he found himself confronted with the black bearded, furious and reddened visages of two lieutenants of the guards. The amende quickly followed; the sons of Mars moderated the use of "bad" fans, smothered their anger and Arnold was left in full enjoyment of the opera.—Exchange.

FLEXIBLE, DANTY, HEALTHFUL.

Cork Sole Turned Shoes

Are as flexible and dainty as the finest turn, and are the easiest walking Shoe made, the cork acting as a cushion to the foot. The cork being secured in a pocket, thus forming a part of the Shoe, it is impossible for it to work loose or break up. They are also the most healthful Shoe, as CORK IS A NON-CONDUCTOR OF HEAT AND MOISTURE. It prevents the warmth of the bottom of the foot from radiating and escaping in cold weather, and in warm weather it prevents the heat from the pavements from penetrating the foot.

LADIES wearing our Cork Soled Turned Shoes needn't fear cold, hot, damp or rough walks. They are as flexible and dainty a Shoe as the lightest turned Shoe made. Come and see them; they are a thing of beauty and comfort. Come and see, also, the largest retail stock of Boots and Shoes in the State. Selling at 25 per cent. less than anybody else sells them.

One of the large passenger engines on the Chesapeake and Ohio made a remarkable run a few days since, hauling a train consisting of eight cars, four of them Pullman cars, ninety-five miles in two hours and fifty minutes, up a grade the entire distance ranging from thirty to sixty feet to the mile, except five miles near the top of the mountain, where the grade is eighty-two feet to the mile.

The Constitution-Makers.

The Constitutional convention reassembled yesterday after a four-days' rest.

The committee to whom the matter had been referred reported it had arranged with official Printer Johnson for the publication daily of 3,000 copies of the proceedings of the convention and for the publication of the whole in 1,000 bound volumes at the close of the convention.

A rule was adopted that the daily sessions shall commence at 10 a. m. and end at 1 p. m.

The report of the Committee on Rules was adopted, after which Governor Buckner offered a resolution in seven sections which he asked should be referred to the general committee of legislation. The resolution is a blow at special legislation. The first clause relates to lotteries and provides against the issuing of a license for the vampire in any form after the adoption of this Constitution and for the death of all the forms under which it now has existence. The other clause provides against local legislation and against the granting of privileges to corporations; the voting of aid from counties, towns and cities to railroads, etc. These resolutions to become a part of the Constitution. Judge Laban T. Moore followed with a resolution similarly covering the granting of aid from counties, towns and cities to railroads.

Turf Topics.

That two-year-old filly Evangeline, 2:28½, was sold this week to J. D. Creighton, the millionaire horseman of Omaha, Neb., for $10,000.

Says the New York Herald: "The retirement of Axtell for the season leaves the four-year-old contest for the supremacy this year between Sunol, 2:10½; Nancy Hanks, 2:14½; Alabaster, 2:15; Allerton, 2:16½ and Marguerite S., 2:12½. Allerton is on the ailing list, while Marguerite S. and Alabaster are evidently far outclassed by both Sunol and Nancy Hanks; therefore it is left to the latter two to fight for the four-year-old trotting honors of 1890. The efforts now being made by various trotting associations to bring these two phenomenal performers together lends a national interest to their movements, as it is a battle between California and Kentucky to decide in a measure which is the greatest State for the breeding and rearing of the trotting horse."

Here and There.

Mr. F. E. JANOWITZ, of the C. & O. and K. C. railroads advertised in the EVENING BULLETIN last Saturday for a clerk. By Monday evening he had received fifty-three applications. He has employed a young man, but the applications are still coming in. They were from Mt. Carmel, Mayslick, Mt. Olive, Fern Leaf and other neighboring towns. Mr. Janowitz is fully convinced that advertising—in the BULLETIN—pays.

MR. G. A. McCracken's home on Forest avenue was entered the other night by some thief, who secured a silver watch and a small sum of money. Mr. McCracken had occasion during the night to go to the cistern for some water. He thought he saw some one crouched down in the grape arbor, but did not make close examination. Next morning his pantaloons were found on the rear porch, and his pocket book was missing. The watch was taken from the mantel in his bedroom. No clue.

Important Notice.

SOME MINER MATTERS.

Not minor matters, mark you.

The matters we have in view are far from being minor or unimportant. But of course you understand the point.

Miner Matters Are Shoes.

Nobody in Maysville can think of MINER without thinking of Shoes. What we want is that nobody in Maysville think of Shoes without thinking of MINER. We want them to think Miner Sells Good Shoes.

But we don't want them to say regretfully, "Yes, but I can't afford to buy good Shoes."

That's the way of it.

Lots of people think that a good Shoe, such as we sell, must be an expensive luxury. We want it remembered that our GOOD shoes are as cheap as not-good Shoes, price against price. And when quality is considered, our good shoes are cheaper than not good Shoes.

The Plan of Campaign.

It is Denounced by a Tipperary Priest.

IRISH CIRCLES STIRRED UP.

The Church to Remain Neutral in the Differences Between the Peasants and the Land Owners—Indications That all Parties Are to Be Broken Up—Other Dispatches From Abroad.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Something of a stir in Irish political circles has been caused by the action of a Tipperary priest, named Conway, in denouncing the plan of campaign as detrimental to the best interests of the country, and condemning the tendency of the people to yield blind allegiance to agitators whose advice was often contrary to good morals. The bishop of Cork has also very recently expressed himself in similar, though rather more guarded terms.

The bishops and priests in Ireland have as a rule kept so clear from suspicion of partiality in politics that these two conspicuous exceptions, coming close together, attract much attention. The church as a whole would undoubtedly prefer to see more amicable relations existing between the peasants and land owners, but the priests who come in daily contact with the masses know that their influence would be seriously impaired if they should take any stand in opposition to the movements advocated by the leaders who hold warm places in the people's hearts. The result has been to keep the church neutral.

The situation at Tipperary is exceptional, the recalcitrant element among the tenants having emigrated almost en masse from the Smith-Barry estate to New Tipperary, and leaving only such a constituency as would be likely to receive such utterances as those of Father Conway in a favorable spirit. The London Times claims to have discovered a formidable reaction throughout Ireland against the policy so long pursued under Nationalist auspices, and predicts that a strong anti-plan of campaign party will soon be formed.

If this information be correct, it would seem possible that the clerical deliverances above noted may have been intended as forerunners of the new movement. Other observers express the belief that with Mr. Davitt preaching land tenure reform as more important than the plan of campaign or any other existing movement, and with the other leaders much at odds as to the best way of meeting the situation created by the crop failure, the signs of the times point to the general breaking up of old political fetich-worships, and a crystallization along some new line of action.

A Slim Explanation.

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—The explanations put forth by The Berlin Post and other more or less official organs in regard to the notice restoring the East Africa slave trade are so foggy as to entirely fail in their supposed object of justifying the measure complained of. Not only so, but the inconsistencies visible among the various commentaries give rise to the suspicion that the true inwardness of the affair is not understood at Berlin even by the colonial officer.

It is considered possible that the local officials on the coast may have blundered, and gone further than they were warranted in doing, through some misinterpretation of instructions. The probability is that the intention of the government was to simply assure the Arabs that the new rulers of the country would not meddle with such domestic slavery as they found existing, though they would not sanction the slave traffic as a whole. It will be remembered that even the famous Christian soldier, Gordon, admitted the necessity of permitting domestic slavery under the present conditions of African society.

Labor Troubles.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 18.—In response to the demand of the union leaders for a settlement of the questions in dispute the employers have replied that while they sympathize with the leaders in desire for a settlement they are not satisfied that the executive possesses the authority to effect a compromise on behalf of the strikers generally.

The stevedores and dock laborers here have struck. The loading of mail and other steamers is suspended.

The president of the Wool Shearers' union states that the shearers have not been ordered to break their agreements. They have only been instructed not to accept fresh work.

The western colliers will obey the order to stop work, but they do not approve of it.

One hundred steamers have been fully manned. The employers assert that they can dispense with the labor of unionists.

More About Boulanger.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The statements made by Gen. Boulanger have influenced M. Naquet to retain his seat in the chamber of deputies, in order to refute the calumnies uttered by the general.

The Figaro in its series of articles revealing the inside history of Boulangist movement, describes the confusion that occurred among the leaders of the party owing to Gen. Boulanger's unexpected departure for Brussels to avoid arrest.

Strength of the Triple Alliance.

VIENNA, Sept. 18.—The newspapers here express delight at the coming meeting between the Emperor of Germany and the Emperor of Austria. The Fremdenblatt says that the frequent meetings between the rulers show that the triple alliance exists in full strength and that Gen. Von Caprivi, the German chancellor, is pursuing the old peaceful path.

A Minister Resigns.

LISBON, Sept. 18.—Senhor Ribeiro, minister of foreign affairs, has resigned his office in consequence of the opposition to the Anglo-Portuguese treaty relative to territory in East Africa.

General Butterfield's Failure.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 18.—The terms proposed by Gen. Butterfield for the construction of a railway to Siberia have been rejected by the Russian government.

An Outbreak Expected.

LOCARNO, Sept. 18.—Signor Respini, of the late Conservative government, has arrived here and is receiving considerable support in his plans for reinstating the old regime. An outbreak is expected and the Federal representatives are vigilant. It is reported that the infantry and the people have been in collision at Mendrisio, and that one soldier was killed.

Socialists in Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—At a Socialist meeting held here last night Herr Voghtner, one of the municipal officers, demanded that the Socialists secede from the National church. During the discussion a mention of Christ caused great disorder. The meeting was forcibly dispersed by the police.

Foreign Notes.

Thirty young men at Tiptree, County Essex, England, attempted Tuesday night to lynch a man and woman who were accused of maintaining illicit relations. While the mob were attacking the house occupied by the offending couple a neighbor fired upon the crowd, wounding five of the young men, and driving the others away.

The London Daily News' dispatch from Erzeroum says that the scenes attending the persecution of the Christians by the Turks at Alashgerd, Armenia, are terrible. Murders are going on continually, and scores of outrages upon women are reported. Additional Turkish troops are arriving, but nothing is done to preserve order.

The hot weather has increased the number of cholera victims in Toledo and Valencia, Spain, and has caused the appearance of the disease in many villages. In Albacete, Alente, Castellon de la Plana, Terragona, and Toledo, the epidemic is attacking the upper classes. Most of the victims are women or children.

Emperor William has sent Prince Henry and Duke Ratibor to meet Emperor Francis Joseph on the frontier. The German newspapers speak of the meeting of the emperors with enthusiasm.

Emir Pasha arrived at Turbun on Aug. 4. He forwarded dispatches stating that all the tribes along the route had submitted to the expedition.

The Spanish cabinet has approved the extensive proposals for the reform of the army submitted by the minister of war.

Henry M. Stanley and his bride arrived at Milan Tuesday.

ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND.

Twenty-First Annual Reunion of the Society at Toledo, O.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 18.—The twenty-first annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland is being held here. Decorations have been put up all over the city, upon private and public buildings, and flags can be seen fluttering in the breeze at almost every turn. At 10 o'clock the members were escorted from the Boody house to Memorial hall. The society was called to order by Gen. Rosecrans. Rev. P. S. Slevin, chaplain of Forsythe post, G. A. R., this city, delivered a short and appropriate prayer. Gen. W. S. Rosecrans, president of the society, then took the chair and the regular business of the society was transacted.

On motion of Capt. P. H. Dowling, department commander of the G. A. R., the following was forwarded to the Society of the Army of West Virginia, now in session at Parkersburg, W. Va.: "The Society of the Army of the Cumberland now in session, sends fraternal greetings to the Society of the Army of West Virginia."

Gen. Fullerton, treasurer of the society, reported the financial condition of the society as follows: Receipts for the year, $1,246.24; disbursements, $2,086.11; balance on hand, $2,160.18.

Gen. Cist, chairman of the committee on publication, last year at Chattanooga submitted his report of the completion of the last volume of the Army of the Cumberland records. He said it was in many respects the best and handsomest volume yet published. It was formally accepted by the society.

The committee on memoirs reported the deaths for the year. Among the deaths of former members of the society, says the report, is that of Gen. R. H. Milroy, whose services in our army ought to have permanent record.

The committee on Sheridan's monument; also the committee on the Chickamauga-Chatanooga military park, held their reports on account of the absence of Gen. Alger.

Committees were then appointed on publication, memoirs, nomination of officers, on time and place of next meeting and on oration.

Last night the annual address was delivered by Gen. Thurston.

HEAVY RAINFALL.

New York City and Brooklyn Hadly Flooded.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—It rained very heavily during Tuesday night and the greater part of yesterday morning in this city. For the twenty-four hours preceding 8 o'clock yesterday morning the rainfall was 2.10 inches. The streets in the lower part of the city along the river front were flooded with water and the cellars in the neighborhood had to be pumped out.

Damage Done in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 18.—The heavy rainfall has flooded Flushing avenue doing considerable damage to buildings in course of erection. Some of the walls of the brick buildings will have to be rebuilt as most of the mortar has been washed out. The streets in that district were like rivers this morning.

Athletes Will Finish the Schedule.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—Manager Shurgis left for Louisville last night with the remains of the Athletic club where he will make an attempt to play out the schedule. Curt Welch signed with Baltimore yesterday.

In Pennsylvania's Seventh.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—The Democrats of the Seventh district yesterday nominated Edwin R. Hallowell for congress.

BEASTS IN CAPTIVITY.

MATERNAL LOVE AND WATCHFULNESS SEEN IN A MENAGERIE.

A Lioness That Is a Typical Mother. Beasts That Eat Their Young—Animals Born Captives Are Useless for Exhibition Purposes.

The conduct and methods of the mammals in their maternal capacity, as exhibited in a circus menagerie, might be studied with profit by American matrons. According to the testimony of Superintendent Conklin of Barnum's circus every animal, if properly fed and kept free from noisy intrusion and worry, will rear its young with unvarying care and affection, and further he believes that animals of every species which has ever survived in a state of captivity will breed, and he offers the best possible justification of this belief by saying that he has never during an experience of thirty years had charge of animals which did not breed. Of course, he does not mean that every individual female has had young ones, for many individuals are barren. In the case of some species, however, the animals of one sex are never caught, and consequently young ones are not born among these. An example of such animals is the laughing and crying hyena. The female hyena is seldom caught, although the male is a very ordinary inhabitant of menageries. The males of some other kinds of animals are never caught.

A PERFECT MOTHER.

As an example of a perfect mother may be taken the 3-year-old lioness Belle in Barnum's circus. Rather more than a year ago she had two whelps, fine fat fellows. She fed them regularly and took every possible care of them, but, most remarkable to state, she not only allowed anybody to look at the cubs, but let the keepers take them out of the cage for half an hour at a time. She neither resented this nor relaxed her care for the little ones. With many animals such liberties would have ended in the killing or abandonment of the cubs.

Belle is a large lioness in excellent physical condition. She has a powerful and expressive countenance. The cubs are stolid looking fellows, with not half as much intelligence as their mother. They are not savage, but have no particular respect for the keepers or the public.

The lioness weans her cubs when they are nine months old. Before they attain that age she takes all meat and solid food away from them, although at times they would very much like to have some. At the end of nine months she selects the tenderest pieces of meat to give to them. Soon after that they are taken from their mother and placed in residences of their own.

PECULIARITIES OF BREEDING.

Tigers, leopards and other felines must be left alone with their young. If they are not separated from the other animals, including males of their own species, they will probably kill the young ones. Not long ago a leopard ate up her three cubs simply because she was starved so much, and did not want her offspring to grow up to live a life like hers.

In case it is not possible, on account of bad temper, death or illness, for the mother to suckle them, young lions, tigers, leopards and wolves are given to Newfoundland or St. Bernard dogs to suckle. They only remain with the dogs four or five weeks. After that there might be danger that they would gobble up their foster mothers. Animals reared in this way are not so healthy as those suckled by their own mothers. They are apt to have the rickets.

Lions and tigers have three or four young ones at a time, the leopard five, bears three or four, monkeys one, elephants one, giraffes one, nyliangs two and antelopes one.

Monkeys do not breed much in the captivity of a menagerie, because they are always dying. The monkey who goes around with his Italian master in all weather gets as hardy as it is possible to be. But the menagerie monkey is pampered and kept in a warm cage, so that a shower of rain or a draught of air will kill him. The white Chinese monkey possesses the strongest constitution of any simian. He is a big fellow, with an arm like a blacksmith's, and apt to be quarrelsome. The mandrill, who is distinguished by blue cheeks and a red nose, is affectionate and very delicate.

AN ELEPHANT STORY.

The mother elephant bestows the greatest care and affection on her offspring. This fact is illustrated by the following story: A gentleman well known in this city paid a visit, when 10 years old, to a circus in Brooklyn.

An elephant and her young one were the center of attraction for crowds of Brooklyn small boys. The young elephant had not attained by the course of years that discretion which would enable him to decide what was within his powers of digestion, and he would have swallowed a hat as cheerfully as a bundle of hay. On this account his mother took all the articles which were handed to him, examined them for an instant and then, if they were quite good to eat, she gave them to him; if they were only moderately good she ate them herself, and if they were not good at all she returned them to the generous giver.

Several youths found amusement in handing in their caps, which were returned as no good, because they were made of cloth. The youth of whom we speak was never lacking in enterprise, and he, too, passed in his hat. It was promptly eaten by the mother elephant. It was a large new straw one. The sufferer complained very loudly to the manager of the circus, but was unable to regain his property.

Animals born and raised in confinement are usually as strong and healthy as their relatives from the wilderness. But, strange to say, they are much less easily tamed. Familiarity with man has bred contempt. Such animals are not always savage, but they rarely decline to make an exhibition of themselves by doing ridiculous tricks. Trainers say that for their purposes animals born in confinement are useless.—New York Evening Sun.

Why He Bought the Pies.

At the close of a fair in Boston the household articles were sold at auction, and a round lot of cream pies were knocked down to a gentleman who seemed particularly anxious to get them. "My wife made these pies," he said, "and gave them to the fair; but as she never makes any of this quality except to give away my only chance is to buy them." And then he sat down and consumed a couple in silence.
